

exist. That is why we reach out to other local schools, charities and organisations to use our strength to serve those in greater need. That is why we share our facilities, that we nurture choirs and other worthwhile activities in other schools, that we run Charity Drive, that we host and nurture disabled children in Phab and in the thousands of other acts of outreach and care. We are stronger because we share; we are richer because we give.

This, gentlemen, is our identity. This is Merchant Taylors'. We are gathered in a noble cause - one worthy to be part of, one worthy to promote and one worthy to defend.